Trinkle Speaks At Mass Meeting

Makes An Earnest Plea For A Progressive and Economical Form Of Government For Va.

CAPT. CARLIN PRESIDES

Miss Lucy Graves Introduces Speaker—Senator Trinkle Favors Better Public Schools and a Strict Business Administration—Is Opposed to Any Increase in Taxes—Gives Views on Good Roads—Large Crowd Greets Speaker—Many Women on Stage.

State Senator E. Lee Trinkle, of Wytheville, Va., candidate for governor of Virginia, last night addressed a largely attended mass meeting in the opera house in the interest of his candidacy for the governorship. The speaker made a clear and concise statement of the facts regarding conditions as they exist in Virginia, and he was greeted by applause many times during the course of his speech. The hall was packed with men and women and many women occupied seats on the stage.

SENATOR E. LEE PRINKLE

The speaker opened up the campaign issue on taxation. In the short space of ten years he said the tax bill in Virginia has increased from $5,750,000 to $18,500,000. Continuing he said "You are asking what becomes of the money?" Virginia he said is giving to the public schools $4,500,000; $1,500,000 to institutions of higher learning, $400,000 to charities; $1,200,000 for hospitals, the last named mostly going to institutions for the insane. In addition she gives $896,000 for the old confederate soldiers he said. There are 9,000 confederate pensioners in the state. They get less than $100 a year, he said, and he expressed hope that Virginia will be able to deal with them more generously than ever before.

For road purposes he said the sum of $7,098,000 is in the treasury.

His idea he said in presenting the figures was to give the people some idea of the expenditures of the state. The state he declared has grown to be a big business enterprise and if Virginia is found to be ahead it can be done by sound business principles Unless the men and women of the state realize the responsibility of the proper conduct the affairs of the state he declared we can never make the state play her part in the affairs of the world. Senator Trinkle said he was unalterably opposed to any increase in taxation, he being of the opinion that the people are now bearing all of the taxes they can bear. Continuing he said "You must be prepared to pay more taxes or elect to office men who will apply business principles. He expressed himself as pleased that the individual was taking more interest in politics.

Regarding suffrage for the women Senator Trinkle declared when he was far younger he introduced a resolution in the state senate to give women a right to vote.

Senator Trinkle said he was interested in public schools, having three children of his own. He recited some facts regarding the overcrowding of the schools in the state, telling of recently how a woman teacher told him of having eighty-one pupils in her class .There are he said 660,000 children of school age in Virginia. The greatest asset Virginia has he said is her boys and girls He said he would rather give his children an education than to leave them countless thousands of dollars and grow up in illiteracy.

The average daily attendance in the public schools he said is 350,000 and there are 15,000 teachers, nine per cent of whom are men and the remainder women. The average pay is only $55 a month. The total number of school buildings is 6,600 and 3,600 of these are one room schools and 1,600 only contain two rooms. Virginia he asserted is running a business enterprise and that was why he presented these figures. Continuing he said "You must prepare to pay more taxes of else get better business officialys. This is a preminently business age. There is something wrong in Virginia. What it is I am not prepared to say. It can be cured."

In the year 1920 he declared the federal government collected in taxes in Virginia fifty per cent more money than Virginia has given to the public schools in ninety-nine years.

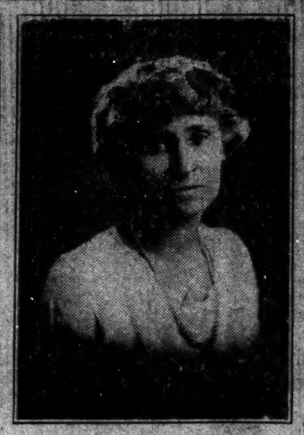
Regarding public roads Senator Trinkle said we must realize we can only construct with our ability to pay. The people should he declared express their views to the candidates in the legislature to decide on the bond issue. There was never a general assembly that has as much power as the one that will meet next year he said. The speaker said the people should send the best business man they can to represent them in that body.

Continuing Senator Trinkle said: "Whatever may be done by the people of Virginia relative to a bond issue I will endeavor to see that you get a dollars' worth of road for a dollars' worth of money. I think the thought that should be uppermost in your mind is the judicial expenditure of money."

Referring to the highway commission he said he thought it had too much power. He added that he did not think that any one man should expend it. Under the present law he does all in accordance with his own individual judgment and there is no higher tribunal to go to. I propose to call into conference the best business men and work out the best plans for roads. It is easy to borrow money; pay day is coming; we should have the best judgment we can have." Senator Trinkle said the next four years means much to Virginia, in fact more than any previous period in its previous history. The speaker declared himself as in favor of law enforcement and he promised their enforcement if elected governor. The governor he declared should at all times apply sound business principles. He told his audience that the next governor will submit the annual budget and that in the majority of cases the recommendations of the governor are adopted without any change.

Senator Trinkle told his audience of being the standard bearer of democracy for the past twenty-two years since he left the University of Virginia. Concluding he said he was under no obligations to job seekers and if elected would go into office free and untrammeled.

The meeting was presided over by Capt. C. Keith Carlin who declared it was an honor and a pleasure to preside over the meeting and he then introduced Miss Lucy Graves who in turn introduced Senator Trinkle.



MISS LUCY GRAVES

Miss Graves said she was very glad to introduce the speaker. She said she never before attended a political meeting and her mission was to tell in a few words "why we are for Trinkle." She said among other things it is because he stands for principles and policies which we think are for the best; we hope all to get a decent wage and the farmer to get his part and the taxpayers' money to be used for the public good and better pay for the teachers. In conclusion Miss Graves said "Let us elect hi mand have a realization of our hopes." In opening his remarks Senator Trinkle thanked Miss Graves for her splendid introduction and declared that he had been introduced in many places before but never had a better introduction speech than the one given by Miss Graves.

Senator Trinkle also paid a tribute to the quartette which he said had been introduced by Capt. Carlin as the best quartette in Alexandria, and added he would connect him by saying it was the best quartette in Virginia and said if electe dgovernor he would have them in Richmond the day of his inauguration.

Selections were given by the quartette and music was furnished by the Lilch orchestra. The quartette was composed of Mrs. Harrie White, Mrs. Sherman B. Fowler, Kenneth W. Ogden and Arthur H. Bryant. A solo was given by Kenneth W. Ogden. Mrs. George E. Warfield was the accompanist.

The affair was concluded with the singing of a campaign song on Senator Trinkle by the quartette, which was composed by Kenneth W. Ogden. It follows:

Parody on Trinkle:
Trinkle is the man whom we are going to put across,
Trinkle as the Governor will be a dandy boss,
Trinkle is the man for whom we all will cast a vote
And then go marching on.
Glory, Glory, Hallelulah!
Glory, Glory, Hallelujah!

DE VALERA LIKELY TO ACCEPT OPENING

Moderates Fear Tragic Results if Premier's Peace Move Fails

DE VALERA TO PICK

Refusal May be Signal For Intensified Military ampaign, is Belief—Comment of "Guardian" on Conference

London, June 28.—Belief that Eamon de Valera, "President of the Irish Republic," will accept Premier Lloyd George's invitation to come to London for a conference with the government and Premier Craig, of Ulster, designed to bring about a settlement of the Irish problem, is expressed in the majority of reports reaching this city from Dublin. All reports agree that Lloyd George's invitation caused a profound sensation in Dublin, and that the question whether de Valera would accept was the subject of general speculation.

Sources predicting that de Valera will accept are generally agreed that he probably will attach sharp conditions to his acceptance, one being that more binding guarantees than were contained in Lloyd George's letter must be given regarding the safe conduct of certain of his colleagues whom de Valera may wish to have accompany him. This applies especially to Michael Collins, former commander-in-chief of the Irish republican army, and Richard Mulcahy, who frequently has been referred to in England as an "organizer of assassinations."

It is stated in some quarters that de Valera would not go to London without these two men, while it also was predicted that he would insist upon release of other men now interned or imprisoned in order that they might accompany him. It was pointed out that the wording of the Premier's letter would make it impossible for him to refuse such a demand. This was considered to constitute a remarkable and significant change in the attitude of the British Premier, who earlier in the year had excepted certain Sinn Feiners from those whom he would be willing to receive a negotiation. The men excepted had been denounced in the House of commons as murderers.

In the event that de Valera refuses the Premier's invitation, it is generally believed that the government will make energetic preparations for a vigorous campaign to suppress Sinn Fein activities in the West and South. Troops which could be used for this purpose are constantly arriving in Ireland.

Moderate Sinn Feiners are represented as being extremely anxious that De Valera accept Premier Lloyd George's invitation. It is said that they can see no possibility of ending the conflict under present conditions, and that they fear terrible results of an intensified military campaign is begun as a result of rejection of Lloyd George's overutres.

In the event of De Valera accepting Mr. Lloyd George's invitation it is altogether probable that the Dominion Prime Ministers, now in London, will be invited by the British Prime Minister to participate in the negotiations.

If Mr. de Vallera accepts the invitation, the coming week in London may well be one of the most momentous in a century of British history. With the miners and their employes called to confer today, with hope for the settlement of the Irish question presented and with the Anglo-Japanese alliance and all that it involves under consideration.

The Manchester Guardian, in an editorial captioned "Is it Business," says Premier Lloyd George for the first time has taken a definitely practical step toward a settlement of the Irish question .The Guardian is of the opinion that the conference will be largely one between the Sinn Fein and Ulster, which, it says, makes all the difference, "for it cannot be to between Irishmen is a key to an agreement between Ireland as a whole and this country."

BEER AS MEDICINE IS GIVEN KNOCKOUT

Supplemental Prohibition Act Adopted by Vote of 250 to 93

DISCUSS BILL 4 HOURS

Charge That AntiSaloon League Attorney Drafted Measure Causes Uproar—Barkley Interrupted

Washington, June 27.—By a vote of 250 to 93, the House tonight passed the Willis-Campbell bill to prevent the sale of beer to the sick and sent it to the Senate with expectation of its final enactment before the end of the week.

The vote, which was twenty-one more than the necessary two-thirds, was taken after four hours of stormy debate, interrupted frequently with shouts to stop the talk and pass the bill. Despite the sweltering weather, however, leaders in the fight for and against the measure refused to yield to an ever-growing demand for an end of the discussion.

In closing debate, for the opponents, Representative Hill, Republican, Maryland, threw the House into considerable disorder by charging that Wayne B. Wheeler, general counsel for the Anti-Saloon League, had drafted the bill. Pointing to the league lawyer in the gallery and calling him by name, Mr. Hill brought a wild shout from the prohibition element, some of which stood until quiet was restored.

There was another dry outburst a moment later, when Representative Foster, Republican, Ohio, declared there was no truth in the statement about Wheeler's part in the preparation of the measure.

A sharp attack on the Rules Committee for failing to give right of way to the Volstead supplemental bill was made by Representative Reavis, Republican, Nebraska, a member of the Judiciary Committee, who charged that its work of three weeks had been stifled.

Mr. Reavis declared it was a menace to orderly legislation when half a dozen members of the Rules Committee could nullify the action of another committee in reporting a bill of national importance. Chairman Campbell, defending the committee, said it was unwilling to mix emergency legislation with controversial matters which should be fully aired.

In the midst of a plea for passage of the bill, Representative Barkley, Democrat, Kentucky, was interrupted by Representative Gilbert also Democrat, and of the same State who asked:

"Since we are both from Kentucky, I would like to know if you would not rather see a Kentucky colonel drinking 100 per cent liquor than a pot-bellied German drinking a keg of beer?"

Mr. Barkley replied that if he had to look upon one of the two evils, he preferred to see the colonel at the bar.

Representative Cooper, Republican, Ohio, formerly a railroad engineer, took issue with the American Federation of Labor in standing for light beer and wine, declaring it had no right to make the organization speak on moral questions. He insisted that the federation "did not express the sentiment of the workingman."

Representative Cockran, Democrat, New York, declared prohibition or any other law could not be enforced when public sentiment was against it.

Warning the House against the constant spread of law-breaking since enactment of drastic prohibition laws, Representative Kahn, Republican, California, turning sharply upon advocates of the anti-beer bill, declared "there are members here who vote for prohibition and who drink more liquor in a week than I do in a year."

Mr. Kann asserted the Volstead law was being broken every hour of the day and that Congress ought to handle the problem in a rational way.

Republicans voting against the bill were:

Ansorge, Bacharach, Beck, Brennan, Britton, Burdick, Burke, Chandler, of New York; Closson, Connolly, Pennsylvania; Curry, Davis, Minnesota; Dyer, Fairchild, Fenn, Freeman, Gernerd, Glynn, Hill, Hogan, Hukriede, Hull, Jefferies, Kahn, Keller, Kennedy, Kissel, Kleczka, Kline, New York; Lampert, Lee, New York; Lehlbach, Longworth, McLaughlin, Pennsylvania; McGregor, Madden, Magee, Maloney, Merritt, Mills, Morin, Mudd, Newton, Missouri; Nolan, Ogden, Olph, Parker, New Jersey; Porter, Radcliffe, Ransley, Reber, Rodenberg, Rogers, Ryan, Snyder, stafford, Stephens, Taylor, New Jersey; Tinkham, Vare, Voigt, Volk, Ward, New York; Watson—64. I. C. C. URGES COAL RESERVE SUPPLY

Large Users Are Asked to Stock up in Summer

GETS HOOVER'S O. K.

Urges Recommendation of Commission—Statement Sent to Head of Railway Executives.

Washington, June 27—Appeal was made by the Interstate Commerce Commission today to the railroads, public utilities and other large users of coal to build fuel reserves during the summer in order that the railroads may be utilized in coal transportation when shipping activities are lessened and rail facilities are less congested.

While "it is not practicable to store a full winter's supply," the commission said, "if a reasonable reserve is now accumulated it will help out greatly when and if a period of so-called car shortage occurs later which is in any respect comparable with that experienced last year."

Secretary of Commerce Hoover gave his full support to the recommendation of the commission. Present bituminous coal prices at the mines, he said, are not unreasonably high and the large coal users of the country should contract fuel stocks during the summer in anticipation of winter needs.

In its statement, addressed to T. DeWitt Cuyler, chairman of the Association of Railway Executivves, the commission declared:

"As you doubtless know, the production and transportation of bituminous coal has been disappointingly small this summer and is now at a disappointingly low stage. The commission requests that I write suggesting the importance, in the interest of the conditions which may exist during the late summer and fall, of having the railroads and other large users of coal acquire now, while conditions are easy, a reasonably liberal reserve supply.

"We suggest that this matter be brought to the attention of the members of your association, together with a recommendation that in so far as it is practicable they act thereon.

"We realize, of course, that it is not practicable to store a full winter's supply, but if a reasonably reserve is now accumulated it will help out greatly when and if a period of so-called car shortage occurs later which is in any respects comparable with that which we experienced last year.

"We are taking this matter up with associations of public utilities, etc., that use large quantities of coal and that need a dependable supply."

TODAY'S THOUGHT

St. Augustine! well hast thou said, that of our vices we can frame a ladder, if we will but tread beneath our feet each deed of shame. The heights by great men reached and kept, were not attained by sudden flight. But they while their companions slept, were toiling upward in the night.

Trinkle Mass Meeting.

The mass-meeting at the Opera House last night was a huge success from start to finish. The Trinkle Committee may felicitate themselves upon the rare fact that there was not a single dull moment from 7.45 to 10 o'clock. The program went off without a hitch. Our quartette outdid itself and earned a cordial invitation from Senator Trinkle to be present at the inauguration ceremonies next January. Capt. C. Keith Carlin made an admirable presiding officer and master of ceremonies. The orchestra was at its best, and its first number, Dixie, keyed the audience to the proper pitch of enthusiasm, which it sustained to the end.

Miss Lucy Graves made an admirable introductory address, saying just the right things in the right way. She spoke like a veteran, in spite of the confession on her part that it was her first appearance at a political mass-meeting. The quartette, and the solo by Kenneth Ogden, were accompanied by Mrs. George E. Warfield, who made the piano, as it should be, a component part of the music, and not as is usually the case, a mere adjunct. The stage was occupied by some thirty of Alexandria's best-known men and women, which added to the impressiveness of the occasion. The hall was tastefully decorated with the American flag, and the speaker of the evening had a most inspiring background.

Senator Trinkle was evidently at his best. He spoke a little over an hour, and was greeted with an ovation at the beginning, and applauded frequently.—He touched effectively upon taxation, good roads, schools, Confederate pensions, economy in state expenditures, and the vital necessity of a business administration in Virginia for the next four years. His oratory was wonderfully clear and pleasing, his arguments driven home with telling effect, and his entire speech a masterly effort. He emphasized the point that the duties of the governor of the commonwealth were essentially of a business nature, and required a man trained in business habits. He was modest, withal, but displayed an earnestness of purpose and a sincerity of conviction as to the exigencies of the executive office that augurs well for this state during the next four years.

It is apparent that Senator Trinkle has captured Alexandria. It is only necessary for those who stand with him and for him, to go to the primary on August 2, to win a deserved and assured victory in this city.

A letter from an intelligent citizen of this city, now in Norfolk, states that on Monday the British brought a great part of their present immense naval force into the roads and manoeuvred with between sixty and seventy boats filled with men—in each boat supposed to be about fifty. "Today (Tuesday) they are engaged in attacking Craney Island. The Guns are roaring at this moment." The same Gentleman adds, that before this alarm there were many on the sick list—"tired (he believed) of doing nothing—but that nine out of ten, who had been reported sick, are at their posts, and quite alert."

DEBATE IN CONGRESS

Washington, June 16, 1813

MR. CALHOUN said he did not rise to oppose the passage of this resolution on account of its object; but he objected to the novelty of the form of the resolution. The resolution went further than merely asking for information; it also asks when and by whom the information in question was received. Such form and particularity was unprecedented in such cases. He rose to ask the precise object of the gentleman in giving this form to his motion. What use was intended to be made of the information called for?

MR. WEBSTER said, with respect to the use to be made of the information to be obtained, it would depend on what that information should be. With respect to the form of the resolution, it had been offered in this form because it was on a subject on which we wished for particular information, of that nature which was designated by its terms.

Sunnyside, Ky.—"I suffered for more than two years with my back and nervousness, and was not able to help my mother do the housework. Civilization's Greatest Achievement

Some Eskimos were brought down to Edmonton, Alberta, on official business.

They had never before been south of the Arctic Circle.

They had never seen a street, a town, a window, or a wooden door. A bed, a water tap, and an electric light produced completely new sensations. Street cars were unknown to them; telephones unheard of; trains not to be believed even when beheld.

They had never seen an automobile until someone took them riding in one. They had never set their eyes on an airplane until someone did his most daring stunts in one to thrill them. They had never even seen a movie!

But what do you suppose moved them most in the whole bag of tricks which civilization produced for their amusement and amazement?

What seemed to them the greatest wonder of all?

The cold storage plants!

The White Man didn't always have to hunt and fish when he wanted to eat!

Here was civilization's greatest gift, its greatest benefaction.

This feature of civilization makes it possible for Swift & Company, in the season of over production, to store a supply of food for distribution in the season of scant, or non-production. Thus we are able to maintain for all a constant supply of such choice and necessary foods as Premium Milk-fed Chickens, Brookfield Butter and Brookfield Eggs.

There's pleasure in cooking in a cool kitchen

WHEN your cooking is done with a New Perfection Oil Cook Stove the kitchen isn't made uncomfortably hot. All the heat you need is ready, just when and where you want it—there is none lost. You regulate it by simply turning the wick up or down a trifle.

That's why it's so easy with ordinary cooking experience to make light fluffy cakes, crisply crusted pies and toothsome cookies. The New Perfection Oven is up where you can reach it conveniently and look into it easily.

It's a pleasure, too, to be relieved of coal and wood carrying, of sweeping around and under the hod and wood basket or box. A small dust-rag takes the place of the stove blacking brush.

Always be sure to adjust the wick so that the flame has long white tips. These give you the most heat. Another feature of the New Perfection is its long blue chimney. This drives all the heat up to the cooking utensils and doesn't soot up the bottoms of them. Insures complete burning of every drop of oil; none is wasted.

New Perfections are made in five, four, three, two and one-burner sizes. Most buyers select them equipped with the warming cabinet.

Use Aladdin Security Oil for best results; it's always clean and dependable.

New Perfection Oil Cook Stoves are sold at most department, furniture and hardware stores.

Charles J. Long and Family.

IN MEMORIAM

BOWLES—Entered into eternal rest 17 years ago today my beloved mother, LOTTIE BOWLES.

Sleep on, thou dearest mother, sleep;
Thy children mourn thy loss;
Around thy silent grave we weep,
That is covered all with moss.
We cherish all the tender love
That once they lips did speak;
As thou sleepest in the grave,
Thy spirit with the meek.
Farewell, dear mother, farewell,
And every little while,
Look from your heavenly dwelling place;
On us please fondly smile.

BY HER CHILDREN.

Get that Daly Habit

What Is Dalys Tonic?

If You Are Run-Down

this question and its subsequent answer should be of great interest to you. Two or three sleepless nights, a disordered stomach and then what happens? Your body slips and the first thing you know, your nerves are gone, too. You lose weight and more sleep until you read this ad all about Dalys Tonic—how it enriches your jaded blood, tones your disordered stomach and soothes your trembly nerves—how you do a regular "comeback."

Dalys Tonic is a builder—it contains all the properties necessary to make strong, healthy bodies by supplying the wants of every part of your body with the necessary ingredients it lacks. That's why it makes such a wonderful convalescing tonic—it builds as it strengthens.

Ask your druggist about Dalys Tonic. He can tell you a lot.

SPORTS

The b'g D's annexed two additional victories to their long string by defeating the crack Brookland A. C. Saturday 11-10, and the champion post team of Camp Meade, Sunday, by score 13-5.

Saturday's exhibition by the locals was "clownish" for the first four frames, the team "going up in the air," really spoiling the visitors ten markers, with the score ten to two the Dreadnaughts settled down, a fifth inning rally with eight hits and two base on balls, resulting in seven runs, which was followed by a score each in the sixth and seventh frames, final score 11-10. After the fourth inning the visitors only secured three hits of "Big Six" Alexander, he ending the game in wonderfull style, pitching ten balls for three strikeouts in the last inning. Sam (Lefty) Brown was driven from the mound by the locals, and Pixton his successor was hit hard by the locals, McMahon, the new third-sacker leading the sluggers with four stinging hits, a triple, double and two singles, Slim Giles annexed a double and two singles, a total of eighteen clean wallops being secured. In the absence of Dreifuse and Devers, Ludlow held down first, with Louie Long, a newcomer, taking care of the midway sack, McMahon played the hot corner, with Giles, Strumkle and Hayden in the outfield, Stevens caught Jimmy Alexander in fine style.

Sunday's game was won in three innings, the Dreadnaughts securing eight runs by virtue of timely hitting, coupled with the visitors errors. The weather was extremely hot for the players and everybody was willing to call it a day, without playing the second game with the Westover's who were not willing to wait for the completion of the "D's" game with the soldiers. Frye, with a big lead to work under, took matters easy, being master of the situation when the occasion demanded. Titus, the doughboy twirler lasted two innings, Lucie, his successor, being a much better pitcher, and it would have been a much closer game, if he had started. Jimmy Alexander led the hitters with four clean hits, Wop Devers besides getting hit six or eight times, secured three clean bingles. Slim Giles played a swell fielding game, covering acres of ground in the center pasture showing the benefit of his trip to the Blue Ridge, as he can run like a rabbit and climb like a mountain goat. The infield worked smoothly, Long, Devers, Williams, and McMahon playing great ball, plenty of the dash and vim shown, despite the torrid weather conditions. Captain Hayden our handy man round the ball grounds, relieved "Old Horse" Stevens behind the bat the last two innings, working a la Schalk.

Dick Williams, our premier shortstop, has regained his batting eye, some of his teammates was cruel enough to say that his failure to hit for a couple of games was caused by his matrimonial venture, Dick becoming a "benedict," on June, 10th.

Get ready for three good games, Saturday, Sunday and Monday, the Naval Hospital, Quantico Marines, and Clarendon teams, visiting us the above dates respectively.

Tommy Deghan, from latest reports, is as well as can be expected, after a successful operation for appendicitis at Garfield Hospital, if in that vicinity drop in to see the fighting Irishman.

Carl Dreifus, is playing ball with the Hagerstown Club, of the Blue Ridge League, defeating the Martinsburg Club Saturday, pitching a 9 to 4 victory over the league leaders, and we thought the lad a first baseman. All of his many friends here wish him all the success in the world.

MOTHS BLANKET CITY, SUGGESTING SNOWSTORM

Rochester, N. Y., June 28.—Swarms of white moths appeared here during the night, descending in clouds in both the downtown and residential districts. Buildings, trees and shrubbery were covered with them in some places, and the air was filled, resembling a fall of large snowflakes.

Where the rays of street lamps struck their fluttering white wings the effect was striking. Trees appeared dotted with millions of cocoons.

TRAINING CAMP FOR YOUNG MEN

TO BE OPENED AT CAMP MEADE, MARYLAND, ON AUGUST 1ST.

NO CHARGES WILL BE MADE

Splendid Opportunity For The Youth Of The State To Secure Valuable And Healthy Experience.

A free summer camp, with all expenses included, railroad fare paid, is offered this summer by the government to 1,200 young men between the ages of 16 and 35 who reside in Pennsylvania, Maryland, Virginia and the District of Columbia. This Citizens' Military Training Camp will last for thirty days, commencing on August 1st, and will be held at Camp Meade, Maryland, about half way between Baltimore and Washington.

Attendance at the camp will not cost one cent to any of the candidates who are selected to go. They may either pay their railroad fare from their homes to Camp Meade and be reimbursed as soon as they arrive at the rate of five cents for each mile traveled, allowing an ample margin for meals and other expenses en route, or if they prefer they will be furnished with a ticket before they leave home and allowed not to exceed $3.00 a day for their meals while traveling.

Upon arriving at Camp Meade each man will be supplied with a complete set of uniforms and equipment. He will then be assigned to quarters in comfortable permanent barracks. When mess call sounds he will find a well-cooked meal all ready for him paid for by the government and prepared by army cooks who are now going through a special course of training at the Camp Meade 'Cooks' and Bakers' School to prepare them for duty at the camp. All the mess attendants will be supplied from Regular Army regiments stationed at Camp Meade. Should he need need of it at any time he will find a well-equipped hospital free of charge with competent army surgeons and dentists.

In return for this he will be called upon to devote his mornings to military drills and exercises under the direction of officers specially selected from the Infantry School at Camp Benning, Georgia for duty as instructors, and will be encouraged to spend his afternoons in athletics and games under the supervision of officers specially trained to supervise such activities.

While he will live in permanent barracks, he will frequently take short hikes through the beautiful rolling and wooded country of Southern Maryland, carrying the infantry soldier's field equipment and ending the march by going into camp and spending the night under canvas if the weather is good. Some of his meals in the field he will cook for himself in his "mess kit" and others will be served to him from rolling kitchens.

The military part of the day's program will include demonstrations of all the modern military weapons, such as Tanks, Artillery, machine guns and trench mortars by veteran regular troops stationed at Camp Meade, as well as the actual drills in which the candidates will take part. It is hoped that they will become sufficiently interested to affiliate with the National Guard or Organized Reserve when they return to their homes, thus fitting themselves to be leaders instead of followers if they should ever be called upon to serve their country in case of another war, but attendance at the camp involves absolutely no obligation, moral or legal, to perform any further military service.

Off duty hours will be well provided for, and candidates will be encouraged to spend all their time in camp by providing them with amusements so that they will not want to leave it. There will be movies and other forms of entertainment every evening and frequent concerts by some of the fine Regular Army bands stationed at Camp Meade. The religious atmosphere will not be neglected. Two chaplains will devote their entire time to the Citizens' Camp and to the management of a service club where candidates will be entertained in their spare time. Other chaplains of six different denominations on duty with regular troops of the camp will be available for advice and counsel.

The Military Training Camps Association, composed of graduates of previous similar camps held at Plattsburg, New York, and other places, are in active charge of receipt and forwarding of applications through their nearest local representative, Colonel John A. Cutchins, Mutual Assurance Building, Richmond, but if he cannot be conveniently reached, information and application blanks can be secured and arrangements made to obtain without charge the very simple physical examination by writing to the Commanding General, Third Corps Area, Fort Howard, Maryland.

Applications should be forwarded as early as possible, as the final selection of applicants must be made well in advance of the opening of the camp on August 1st. In case the number of applicants exceeds the capacity of the camp, vacancies will be apportioned by counties in proportion to their population, and the individuals selected by a method which will insure that each locality and each individual applicant has an equal chance.

BETHLEHEM JAIL YAWNS FOR WASTERS OF WATER

Bethlehem, Pa., June 28.—The drought has so seriously affected this city's water supply that Mayor Johnston sent our mounted policemen threatening with arrest every citizen who used water to sprinkle the lawns or the streets.

The water department is pumping just twice as much water as is usually used each day.

Marchal was captured by the Germans and imprisoned. He made his escape from Germany, in company with the late Roland G. Carros, who also was held prisoner, early in 1918.

DODSON SOUNDS CALOMEL'S DOOM

The 'Liver Tone' Man Warns Folks Against the Sickening, Salivating Drug

Ugh! Calomel makes you sick. It's horrible! Take a dose of the dangerous drug tomght and tomorrow you lose a day.

Calomel is mercury! When it comes into contact with sour bile, it crashes into it, breaking it up. Then is when you feel that awful nausea and cramping. If you are sluggish, if liver is torpid and bowels constipated or you have headache, dizziness, coated tongue, if breath is bad or stomach sour, just try a spoonful of harmless Dodson's Liver Tone tonight.

Here's my guarantee—Go to any drug store and get a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone for a few cents. Take a spoonful and if it doesn't straighten you right up and make you feel fine and vigorous, go back to the store and get your money. Dodson's Liver Tone is destroying the sale of calomel because it can not saivate or make you sick.

AH! EPSOM SALT LIKE LEMONADE

You can now buy epsom salts without the awful taste and nausea, by asking your druggist for a handy package of "Epsonade Salts" which looks and acts exactly like epsom salts, because it is real epsom salts combined with fruit derivative salts, giving it the taste of sparkling lemonade.

Try it when bilious, headachy or constipated. Costs but a few cents.

Warning! Don't just ask for "tasteless epsom salts" or you may get a soda imitation. Always ask for "Epsonade Salts" and look for the name, American Epsom Association.
